On this 3rd of Kislim, 2011 (Nov 28 evening),Â I am happy to announce the computer programs Placidus 7 (with Porphyrius Magus 2)&
Porphyrius Magus 2(as a separate program)containingÂ  many modules for research in Ancient Mesopotamian Astrology as practiced from 5,500 BC to AD 75.
The Babylonian Zodiac,The Sphaera Hermetica,The Celestial Pentagram of Venus,The Circle of Petosiris,The Oktatopon,Heliacal Calendar,Paranatellonta,Parapegma,Heliacal phases of stars and planets,2D images of the zodiac with the stars,The Hermetic Zodiac with all 3 kinds of projection of the stars (simple, paranatellonta and ortus).

Ancient Mesopotamian Astrology, Â  according to the tradition, is  coming directly from the illumination of the first Hermes, the prophet  Enoh, Lord Enmeduranki from pre-diluvial Sippar in 5,500 BC.

Being behind the mist of 7,500 years, we can see but only the  outlines of that Original Astral Revelation. However, drawing from  Akkadian texts, we can completely recreate the last reconstruction made  by the third Hermes in around 770 BC.
